

Dirty Lips – From Nothing To Now

Album Release Notes

The official release date for our album is June 1st 2012. It is our first album since 1993 and we recorded all the music we wrote since finishing "Nothing's Better Than Your ..." until now. The album title is "FROM NOTHING TO NOW" :)

We manufactured 1000 copies and each has an individual serialnumber on the back of the CD.

The band's lineup is almost the same as in 1993. Just Thomy, our Leadguitarist, could not join us permanently, because of his daily job. He recorded some of the songs, though. See credits for details.

Thomys spot was filled by Marco, Rogers brother, which he does perfectly. He's a great musician and plays a lot of instruments. It's great having him in the band.

"Whenever" was the first song we wrote after NBTY, "(If You Don't Like It) I Don't Care" is the newest, which we haven't played live because we never finished it until now.

We did a CD-Single in 1998 that had "Won't Cry" on it. Back then a friend played piano on the single. He died in 2007 in a motorcycle-accident, so we decided to dedicate the album to him. His name was "Ulf Kahle".

Back in 1998 we wanted to put "Won't Cry" on our new album, which was never released. Time passed and we did some changes on the song, that's why there's now a 2012-version.

We financed the whole album and recording process by ourselves. Back in 1993 we spent about $30.000 for NBTY, a lot of money for a commercial failure, but hey- at least we tried. FNTN was much cheaper, but we think it sounds much better.

The album is available for $6 (incl. Shipping worldwide) on our homepage or by any other contact. We will also give copies away for free: Everybody who sends us a photo of him holding our first CD NBTY will receive a total free copy of FNTN – we even pay the shipping costs. The sender should allow us to post the picture on our facebook-page with the first name and country of his/her origin. Of course this only lasts as long as we have copies left.

You will also be able to download FNTN on every major download-portal (e.g. iTunes or amazon) and also smaller ones.

Why do we all do this?

On eBay and other websites our album is offered by collectors, sometimes for about $100. This, and a lot of positive comments on our music (e.g. on youtube), has shown us that there are people out there liking our music. Although we never made it near "rich and famous".

On dirtylips.bandcamp.com you can stream the whole album and can download our single "Losing My Mind" (plus a "song of the week") for free.

On www.facebook.com/dirtylips89 we now gained more than 5500 fans (August 2012) from all over the world which makes us very proud.

So thanks to every fan, listener and collector out there, and please remember to play "From Nothing To Now" VERY LOUD :)
